

Millennials & Neo-Millennials: THE WEBINAR SERIES

On behalf of the Imagine America Foundation and ED MAP, we would like to thank you for taking the time to participate in the first of our four part series on Millennial students. We hope that you found the content to be of interest, and that we were able to get to everyone's questions. We would also like to thank our guest speaker Susan Patrick, CEO of iNACOL, for her invaluable expertise.

If you weren't able to join us for this first webinar, would like review what we covered or just want to pass it along to colleagues, both a recording of the session and the slides are available for download at: <http://www.edmapsolutions.com/IAF/>

The winners of the Millennial Website Review giveaway will be contacted in the coming weeks, and the results will be anonymously shared during the 4th session.

In the 2ND SESSION of our four part series will we will build on our knowledge of Millennials. From Web 2.0, social interaction and harnessing collective intelligence to assessment and creating structure and rules of engagement, attendees will gain a better understanding of how to get their school ready for Millennial students from a technology and learning environment perspective. The webinar will be held on February 11th from 3-4pm EST.

Be sure to secure you spot in the second session of our series. Registrations for the first session filled up quickly. Click here to register now.

Understanding Millennials and Neo Millennials the Webinar Series

Session 2: Learning Environment 2.0 - harnessing collective intelligence

- What is Web 2.0
- How do Millennials use technology?
- What is learning environment 2.0?
- Social Interaction, Information Sharing, Project Collaboration, Peer-to-Peer Feedback
- How can you incorporate learning 2.0?
- What have others done, how did it work.
- Preparing Students
- Structure and Rules of Engagement

Register at <https://www2.gotomeeting.com/register/906367449>.

Interested in how ED MAP can help your institution? Contact us at connect@edmap.biz or 888.55.EDMAP.

About ED MAP, Inc.

ED MAP provides tools, support and services for the selection, development and distribution of textbooks in print, customized or digital format. As a distributor, ED MAP ensures students receive the correct course materials in a timely and technically appropriate way. As a partner, ED MAP analyzes institutional and curricular goals to present solutions - then does the heavy lifting required to achieve them.

ED MAP is the only company flexible enough to meet the needs of today's diverse educational marketplace. Our clients include proprietary and career colleges, K-12 online programs and institutions, multi-campus systems, traditional campuses, continuing education and professional associations. Additional information can be found at the company's website: www.edmap.biz.